Challenge our new Truphone bot!

As you may have seen from our recent new joiners emails, we have had a whole host of interns honing their skills at Truphone.

One such intern is Fábio Almeida who, in under three weeks, has been able to create a working bot that interacts with My Truphone customers by answering any questions they have, based off information it has accumulated from our My Truphone and Apple Watch FAQs.

Fábio has made a video explaining the bot and his discoveries to manage the bot interaction which you can watch below or by clicking this link.

It's a seriously cool feat, and we'd like to challenge all of you to engage with the bot (which is currently a proof of concept) for yourselves. You can do so by clicking this link. Worth noting this is just our first attempt to set a bot!

Huge well done to Fábio and all our interns for all their hard work and creative thinking.
